

PRESS ANNOUNCEMENT FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

30TH JUNE 2021

CITY'S BEST FINTECH COMPANIES ANNOUNCED

Gemma Godfrey announced the winners of the Systems in the City 2021 Fintech Awards during an online ceremony hosted on 29th June, 2021.

Over 200 submissions were made for the awards and 55 FinTech firms were short-listed. 27 received Company Awards. In addition, 12 individuals working in the sector were rewarded with the now customary SITC Fintech blue plaque.

Stephen Pinner, Managing Director of Goodacre UK, who hosted the awards ceremony said:

“These Awards are the benchmark in the sector. All of the nominees and winners are to be congratulated, especially during such a challenging time for everyone. Companies providing services and systems to the investment sector are an essential ‘behind the scenes’ element for the business and their efforts deserve to be acknowledged and rewarded”.

Winners had no advanced knowledge of their Awards and were both surprised and delighted. Comments received included:

“I am thrilled to be collecting the individual award in our 10th year of business and to also be presented with the accolade for Best Corporate Actions Solution is such a fitting tribute to the efforts of the Torstone team and the support of our clients”.

Torstone Technology’s Brian Collings, who was presented with the CEO of the Year Award

“Our award for Best Web Front End System is the result of the very hard work put in by our teams across Europe to develop and support the tools to manage, optimise and deliver data with seamless efficiency to our clients”.

David Tibbetts, Managing Director, Web FG

“We’re delighted to have received the SITC Award for the ‘Best Third-party Funds Custodian’ which is in recognition for our proven third-party funds custody solutions. Outsourcing third-party funds custody to trusted specialists, such as Clearstream is in many cases not just safer, but due to scale also much less costly.”

Neil Wise, Global Head of Sales for Investment Fund Services at Clearstream

The awards presentation followed the annual SITC conference, chaired by Phil Bungey, Managing Director, Embark Group and supported by Allfunds, Objectway, FinoComp, Infront, FIS, Torstone Technology, Clearstream, Datactics, Reed Smith, Embark, Third Financial, SS&C Technologies and Altus.
